

Limiting telemarketing is Not a restriction of free speech, there are other ways they can get their message out. They are only being stopped from ruining my home life and the telephone system. Things are bad enough now that I NEVER answer the telephone anymore; I let the answering machine answer and I listen to see if someone I care to talk too leaves a message. In addition, charities and political callers should also be stopped by the do not call list.